Graduate Scholarship Opportunity

The Young Cattlemen's Leadership Committee of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association will award a $1,000 Graduate Scholarship for the 2021-2022 school year. The scholarship was established in hopes of broadening production agriculture awareness in non-typical agricultural fields by supporting the continued education of New Mexico students.

"We are dedicated to the ag future of our state," said Randell Major, President of NMCGA, "investing in our kids is part of our commitment to that future."

Requirements for application include students enrolled in a post-graduate program who have a beef cattle production background from New Mexico. Applicants must be a member of NMCGA or the child of an NMCGA member. Membership's forms can be found by visiting www.nmagriculture.org or calling the office at 505-247-0584.

Applications will be made available to the public beginning on March 1, 2021. All completed application must be postmarked and returned to the NMCGA Office by May 25, 2021.

All eligible applicants are encouraged to apply! The selected recipient will be awarded their scholarship during the Mid-Year meeting to be held June 6-8, 2021 at the Ruidoso Convention Center in Ruidoso, New Mexico. Winners will be notified ahead of time.
